We are the Unitarians!

May 5, 2019 is a landmark anniversary for Unitarian Universalists. It will be the 200th anniversary of a seminal sermon given by Rev. William Ellery Channing, minister of Boston's Federal Street Church. This sermon, entitled "Unitarian Christianity," acknowledged the liberal split from Congregational churches and set the stage for this liberal wing to eventually form the American Unitarian Association later in 1825. (In 1961, the American Unitarian Association merged with the Universalist Church of America to form the present Unitarian Universalist Association.)

Channing's "Unitarian Christianity" sermon was delivered at the ordination of Rev. Jared Sparks at the First Independent Church of Baltimore. (The sermon later became known as "The Baltimore Sermon.")

The first liberal cracks amongst the Congregational churches began as early as 1805 with the appointment of a "liberal" professor Rev. Henry Ware to the Harvard Divinity School faculty. Rev. Ware was criticized by the more conservative Congregational theologians - "[Mr. Ware is] not a Calvinist [regarding] his sentiments on important points, such as the depravity of human nature, the impotency of man... and the future state of the wicked (Jedediah Morse)."

The liberal wing was pejoratively accused of being like the infidel deistic Unitarians of England - "Persons...have heard from [Unitarian] pulpits both sermons and prayers, which neither expressed nor implied anything more than sober Deism, and which were totally at variance with the Gospel....many well-meaning people have been led in the dark (Jeremiah Evarts)."

William Ellery Channing

Jedediah Morse

The liberal Congregationalists denied this accusation for years until Rev. Channing's Baltimore Sermon of May 5, 1819. In this sermon, he planted a stake in the ground and essentially said, "We are the Unitarians!"

In Baltimore, Channing forcefully and forever parts ways with the conservative Congregationalists who believed in the Calvinist doctrines of "impotency" and "depravity of human nature" - "[God] created us for good and holy purposes; it is not because his will is irresistible, but because his will is the perfection of virtue....(Channing)."

These new Unitarians also sought to bring reason to religion - "With these views of the Bible, we feel it our bounden duty to exercise our reason upon it perpetually; to compare, to infer, to look beyond the letter to the spirit, to seek in the nature of the subject, and the aim of the writer, his true meaning (Channing)."

The "Unitarian Controversy," as it came to be known officially came to an end in 1825 with the formation of the American Unitarian Association.

William Ellery Channing is the giant of Unitarian Universalism. His writings influenced and shaped the future philosophies and theologies of Ralph Waldo Emerson, Theodore Parker and the movement that came to be known as Transcendentalism.

It will be wonderful to celebrate this 200th anniversary on Sunday, May 5, 2019.

Take care,

Dave

UUMAN at Sweep the Hooch

On Saturday, April 6 several UUMAN members and kayaking enthusiasts participated in the annual Sweep the Hooch. The event is hosted by the Chattahoochee Riverkeepers and is focused on cleaning up the Chattahoochee River and bringing awareness to the problem.

Altogether, 1,154 eager volunteers turned out to remove 32 TONS of trash from the river including a bowling ball found floating in the river by Laurie Wheeler.

Hope you can join us next year!

NFCC Volunteer Celebration Brunch

During NFCC's Volunteer Celebration Brunch, UUMAN was represented by regular Food Pantry volunteers Steve Allerton, Carole Herman and Rosie Popp. Other UUMAN members who volunteer in the Food Pantry weekly are Sue Tromblee and Bob Popp. The brunch was delicious—egg casserole, chicken and waffles, gourmet donuts and fruit. The program was inspiring. If NFCC did not have all their great volunteers, they would need to hire 50 full time employees to do the same amount of work.

Values, Mission, Vision Update

In December, we started working together on a process to help us move from ME to WE in our collective work at UUMAN. The process includes identifying our core values, developing a covenant to guide our work, defining our mission, creating our vision and developing a strategic plan to keep us focused on our shared priorities.

Progress to date:

Through 3 congregational meetings and 2 meetings with the youth, we identified 5 core values: wonder/awe, connection, love, courage, and justice, and we drafted a covenant, based on input from all of these meetings.

We have collected feedback after service over the month of April. All of you were asked to provide feedback on the covenant and how you would complete this statement to describe what we do at UUMAN:

Because we value wonder/awe, we come together to _____

Because we value connection, we come together to _____

Because we value love, we come together to _____

Because we value courage, we come together to _____

Because we value justice, we come together to _____

The workgroup met on April 28th to begin synthesizing the feedback from all of you.

Next Steps:

Editing of the covenant is already underway!

Over the next couple of weeks, we will compile the feedback to the statements for each value, and we will share our work at the Congregational meeting.

After that, we will work on Mission and Vision statements, based on all of this work. If there are any wordsmiths who are interested in helping draft mission/vision statements, please let us know.

We hope to hold a vote on adopting an updated mission statement in the Fall.

Then, we can move to strategic planning. We'd love your help!

If you have any questions, please feel free to talk with any member of the ME to WE workgroup: Elizabeth Rohan, Miriam Patanian, Bev Jordan, Shelley Nagrani, Merri Beth Stephens, Pat Shea, Maya Henson and Stephen Seaver.

Partner Church News - Memorial for Basharboy Nongrum

On May 5 our Partner Church, the Mawsynjri Unitarian Church in Northeast India, will be having a Memorial Service for Basharboy Nongrum. This young man had been an important part of the community, volunteering with the Youth group and church music program. He also worked as a carpenter and actor in local Khasi films. UUMAN had raised donations for him to have an operation to repair a hole in his heart, but unfortunately he passed away from a stroke before that could happen in December.

In the upcoming service, the Mawsynjri Church will be distributing the funds formally to Basharboy's younger brother Lamson, who will be following in his brother's footsteps in his own carpentry business. A portion of the funds were also used to purchase a music keyboard for the church, to be dedicated in honor of Basharboy at this service. On April 28, the UUMAN Youth learned more about Basharboy's life from a presentation made by Sophie and Valerie Davis, who had traveled to India recently and met with his family. The Youth also viewed the film Ka Rngai ("The Spirit"), in which he had starred. Basharboy was also remembered at the Indian Dinner presentation that Sophie gave later that day. Both the Youth and dinner participants signed cards that will be emailed to the Mawsynjri Church in time for the memorial service.

UUMAN Sharing the Plate—50/50

Once each month, half of our undesignated plate offering is given to a non-profit organization. The other half goes for the work of our congregation. Please consider giving even more generously than usual on these Sundays.

The Chili Cook-off Committee has chosen North Fulton Community Charities (NFCC) to share half of our unpledged plate funds for May 18th. North Fulton Community Charities' mission is to build self-sufficiency and prevent homelessness and hunger in our community by providing emergency assistance and enrichment programs.
